Headline:
Frequent blustery snow and hail showers. Bitterly cold northerly winds.

Today:
Another very cold day with blizzardy snow showers, these heaviest in the morning with some tricky early driving conditions, but soon melting on roads in strengthening sunshine. Showers easing in the afternoon with more in the way of bright spells. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Snow showers becoming less frequent and mainly confined to the Moray and north Aberdeenshire coast, winds gradually easing and still a frost for most areas. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Wednesday:
Bright with isolated wintry showers Wednesday, becoming mainly dry and sunny in the afternoon and even feeling slightly milder. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A bright start on Thursday but some rain later and strong winds once again. Colder with blustery snow showers on Friday and Saturday.
